Coach's Comments: The Tigers should be very completely. They are coming off a season of 10 wins and a lost in the sectional championship game to Elwood. We have all but 1.33 innings of ;pitching returning, with two all-conference players leading the way in Drew Overman and Zach Yeagy. We will have a good mix of youth and experience and should compete in the conference and the sectional.

Coach's Comments: This will be an interesting team. We have only three seniors, but the underclassmen have some experience. We should be strong defensively up the middle. Mike Kelly and Seth Kauffman can compete with anyone in the area. If he pitching staff can keep us in games, we have a good chance to return to the sectional finals.

Coach's Comments: We return many of our starters from a 15-win campaign. We were very young in 2009, but gained much experience against some very good competition. We return our entire pitching that that posted a 3.34 ERA. If we can establish a solid defense and pitching, we could have a successful season.

Coach's Comments: After the graduation of 12 seniors the Greyhounds have some big shoes to fill, but a solid nucleus of pitching from the junior varsity should fill the void. The defense should be solid and the hitting will improve as the team matures.

Josh Niedermeyer	Sr.	3-1	15	22.1	6.27
Andy Kaufman	Jr.	4-1	14	21	2.33

Coach's Comments: The Chargers lost a ton due to graduation and must rebuild the top of their lineup as much of their offensive firepower does not return. Justin Glass and Curtis Wise will be looked upon to pick up their role within the lineup and Joe Timmerman will be looked upon to jump start things from the top. A major void has been left behind the plate and things are wide open as to who might fill that role. Wise will once again lead the pitching staff and Josh Neidermeyer and Andy Kaufman will be looked to carry a larger role.

Nolan Clayton	Sr.	10-2	84	75.1	2.60

Coach's Comments: After graduating 10 seniors from last year's 23-9 team, inexperience will be a concern. But, we do have our No. 1 pitcher Returning, Nolan Clayton, a bulldogs on the mound who beat Cathedral in the regional. Also, a good indication of things to come is the combined record of last year's junior varsity and freshman teams was 39-1. A plethora of left-handed pitchers should also help. With tradition on our side, Coach Gandolph is entering his 30th season at Center Grove.

Coach's Comments: After winning our first sectional in 10 years and only the second in the school history, we will be faced with filling some big holes. We lost five seniors, including first team all-state catcher Damon Vest and first team all-state outfielder Cameron Metzger. We returning our starting pitching and have eight players coming back with varsity experience, and a few freshmen and sophomores who will be counted on immediately to fill voids/

We are left by senior lefty Steven Rice, first-team all—state, Hoosier Diamond's Junior of the Year, an Vanderbilt early signee. Rice led the state last season with 198 strikeouts and was 14-0, moving his career record to 24-0. Pitching depth will come from senior AJ Ehrlich (coming of an injury), poised to be a strong NO. 2; juniors Jordan Kiger, Reece Heron and sophomore lefty Joel Hobson. Coach's Comments: The season looks to be an exciting one for the Oracles as we return eight full-time position starters. Needless to say, our experience will be a strength. However, in order for this squad to return to championship form, they must throw strikes and continue to improve defensively. With that said, this group is cautiously optimistic that the season will provide us with a championship season.

Coach's Comments: The Chargers return everyone except last year's lone senior, first baseman Robert Fitzsimmons. Our defense and pitching will keep us in most games, but in order to achieve our goals we must become more efficient offensively. It is crucial someone steps up as the lead-off hitter and also as the four-hole guy behind Zack Corpe.

The offense should be strong as well, led by Sterrett, the Team twins, Travis Demerly and Frank Fisk. The success of this team will be determined by how well the young kids blend with the veterans. Coach's Comments: Several players gained valuable playing experience last year because of injuries. We have a lot of pitching depth and should be able to defend. Look for improvement from this group.

Hamilton Heights

Head Coach: Rick Hawley.

Class & Conference: Class 3A; Mid-Indiana Conference.

Prospects: Tyler Anderson and Andrew Knapp will return to lead the pitching staff, which will be bolstered by the addition of transfer Tanner Stis. Knapp and Anderson will also play first and Stis will play the left side of the infield. Tyler Sauerteig and Kevin Beery will open as the middle infield. Colton Elbrecht and Spencer Dull will handle the catching. The outfield will be Logan Cunningham in center and Zak Carlson, Dylan Kerfoot and Austin Sowers handling the corner.

Coach's Comments: With a good blend of experience and youth and with only one senior playing regularly, we are working to build a solid future, both in 2010 and beyond.

Coach's Comments: We have a young team in which I have eight sophomores returning from their freshman seasons. Overall we will be learning again what it takes to play at the varsity level. Without a junior varsity team, these players will be getting a lot of playing time and more experience that will help them for the next two seasons.

Coach's Comments: Several players will have to step up to pitch as KV graduated 133.1 innings pitched. The Kankakee Valley administration has begun a huge 1.1 million dollar renovation project. This alone should motivate the boys to have a good season. Strong defensively, but lacking pitching and hittiner power.

Coach's Comments: The 2010 Slicers returners will return with a bad taste in their mouth. Many of the members of this team were part of the 2009 team that lost in the bottom of the sixth on a grand slam home run by the No. 9 hitter in the second game of the sectional. We have some experience players as the entire pitching staff returns and five starting position players return. Leadership from the returning seniors will be a key ingredient in order for the Slicers to have a successful 2010.

Coach's Comments: The Tigers must establish depth in the pitching rotation. We return only four seniors, but have 13 players who return with varsity starts. Junior Jacob Shike and senior Joel McMasters have the potential of being the best 1-2 punch in the conference. It will again come down to solid pitching and timely hitting and execution at the plate will decide whether the Tigers can compete with defending conference champion Crawfordsville.

Coach's Comments: The Miners are coming off another disappointing season in which they finished 13-9 and were sectional runners-up. The young pitching staff that was thrown into the fire last year should be a strength this season. All 13 wins are back. We have some middle infield issues and if we can get a solid four in the infield we should be strong defensively. Expectations are high.

Coach's Comments: We are very excited about the 2010 season. We are coming off an 18-8 season where we won the Greensburg Sectional before losing to Brebeuf in the regional. Both of our 2009 co-offensive players of the year are returning in centerfielder Trey Thurston and catcher Jordan Leach. On the mound we return No. 2 starter Luke Jones and reliever Hunter Brown. Our 2010 success will depend on the development of inexperienced pitchers and replacing the leadership of last year's senior.

Coach's Comments: We are looking forward to a good season. Shelbyville finished last season winning seven straight game before losing to New Palestine in the championship game of the sectional. Several seniors and a sophomore pitcher are returning with significant innings. Defensively, the Gold Bears should be string in the infield with the entire defensive crew back with a four-year starting catcher to call the shots. Offensively, the Bears will need to move runners up in order to get runs in.

Jimmy Maxwell	Jr.	4-2	25	31.2	2.65
A.J. Reed	Jr.	6-3	115	73	1.15

Coach's Comments: The Braves will be returning their entire pitching staff and six position players, but need to find replacements at catcher and third. There are several candidates for these positions, so the competition should be healthy. Pitching and defense should be strengths, but hitting in the clutch will determine how successful this team will be.

Coach's Comments: We are looking to improve into a solid fundamentally sound ball club to compete in the strong Northern Lakes Conference. We have strong upper class leadership back to be positive role models for younger players. The program has a group of young players with varsity experience. We plan to play one pitch at a time, the Dirtbag way.

Coach's Comments: We showed signs of improvement in all phases of the game last spring. We need to improve just as much this season to keep the rebuilding process on the right track. The culture and attitude have changed; we need to transfer that into successes on the field. Pitching will be a big key for us. We also need to compete better at the plate against quality pitchers.

Coach's Comments: We will return five fulltime starters from the team which shared the Hoosier Crossroads Conference and finished second in the state to Ft. Wayne Snider. The Rocks pitching staff, which boasted a 2.38 ERA and averaged over a strike out an inning, is talented but inexperienced, returning only 49.2 innings.

Coach's Comments: This season should be exciting for Tiger fans. We return six starters from a 20-10 team. Pitching and defense will always be what Yorktown baseball hangs its hat on, but this season should provide more offense with many different contributors. Once again chemistry and timing will be of utmost importance to further our opportunities to be a state championship caliber club.
